PERSONAL PROJECTS

Single-plex Movie Booking Counter

- Environment: Windows 10, C++.
- This C++ console-based application imitates the movie ticket booking counter. It smartly uses the concepts of FILE HANDLING in C++ for managing the user details as well as to update the availability of tickets.
- It includes the feature such as Login, Register, Check the availability of a ticket, Book a ticket, etc.

The Dungeon of Light Crystal

- Environment: Windows 10, Unity Engine, Brick Link Studio, C#.
- This is a 3D game created using the Unity 2019 version of Unity Engine. This game includes an environment that contains obstacles and non-playable players who use artificial intelligence to make the game more enjoyable.
- The game is currently playable on Windows and we are working on it to make it Android compatible.

Utopia (03/2022 - Present)

- Environment: VS Code, MERN, Bootstrap.
- This is a Dynamic Website I created. This website is like a book hub where everyone can buy books online. With addition feature of online publishing of books by writers
- I am creating this project alone so that I will be able to learn every aspect of the project from creating a web application from scratch to Deploying it
- Main feature of this application is creating a book hub where authors can publish there books and reader can read it making a community for the readers and writer directly interacting with each other
